Postdoctoral Position in Mathematical Finance

We invite applications for a postdoctoral position with focus on areas in mathematical finance. A strong background on risk theory, stochastic optimization, and dependence modelling is appreciated. The position is granted for a period of at least one year. The suggested starting date is September 1, 2011. Applicants should have completed their PhD or be in the final stage of writing her/his thesis. There are no teaching duties associated with this position, but teaching is possible on a voluntary basis.

The position is funded by the Vienna Science and Technology Fund (WWTF) and the salary before taxes and social security contributions is EUR 3.283,30 per month (14 times per year).

The application should arrive by June 29, 2011. Ideally it should be in electronic format (PDF) and include:

- Application letter, indicating your preferred starting date.
- Complete curriculum vitae.
- List of publications and preprints, links to online versions if available.
- Letters of reference or contact details of academics who can provide a letter of reference upon request.

Please send your application to the office address secr@fam.tuwien.ac.at.
